PROFILE

Combining my proficiency in web development with a dedication to providing exceptional customer support, I eagerly offer my versatile skill set to elevate your call center operations to new heights of technological innovation and client satisfaction

WORK EXPERIENCE

Eziline Software House

I served as a backend developer at Eziline Software House, contributing to the development of robust CRUD operations for customer, supplier, and purchase modules. Additionally, I played a key role in system integration, ensuring seamless communication between various components.

Upwork Bidder

Having successfully navigated the Upwork platform as both a skilled bidder and a proficient web developer, I possess a unique perspective on engaging with clients. Through tailored proposals and proactive communication,
